WASHINGTON, D. C., APRIL 23, 1881.

THE PENSIVE BULLDOG. BY FRANK SMYTHE, OF VIRGINIA.

Sweet is the sound when oft at eight o'clock Up yonder street the young men quickly walk; There have I passed and viewed the broken gate, Mule witness of a session rather late. The swain, too heavy for the fragile hinge, Had evidently slipped and broken things. Near yonder porch, where once the garden smiled, And still where many a garden flower grows wild, There, where some chunks of plants the place dis-

The faithful bulldog on the lover rose. A pup was he to all the young men dear-He'd mangle forty pairs of pants per year; Remote from gate he lurked among the grass, Nor let a pair of checkered trousers pass. Unpracticed he to fawn or seek for power; Be simply lunched on clothing by the hour.

PYROTECHNY.

BY PROFESSOR SPARKS, ACADEMY OF SCIENCE. A furmy physicist bought a sky-rocket, And carried it snug in his overcoat pocket; It scraped acquaintance before he went far With a match he had there to light his cigar; With a fiz the rocket flew into the air, With his hat, and his ear, and a lock of his hair.

A Parliamentary Boy.

Mr. Rogers, of Third street, has a son Thomas, who was sent off to Lansing on a visit some weeks since, and it seems that the boy put in much of his time around the State House and took a deep interest in the proceedings of the legislative body. He came home chuck full of parliamentary tactics. At the dinner table he moved to reconsider the vote by which boiled ham was placed on the bill-of-fare, and demanded the ayes and noes on the question of a new pair of rubber boots and a spring velocipede. He hadn't been home two days before he observed to his "I move the previous question on that hunk of maple sugar in the pantry." " You can't have it."

"But I must. My motion cuts off all debate, and I shall announce the question as carried in the affirmative." His father suggested the idea of an hour's exercise with the ax, but the boy called for a general expression of opinion and succeeded in passing at vote to recommit the question to the committee on rules for amendment. Things went on in this way for a week, and the old man finally had enough of it and felt called upon to administer a "Don't you know that an amendment takes precedence of the question itself?" replied the boy. "I amend as follows: "'Resolved, That this family recognizes 'Cushing Manual' as standard authority on questions of de-

"No, sir!" replied the old man. . "Do you wish for a call of the house?"

"I wish you to understand that your talk displeases me." "Well, while I must respect the rights of the minority, I still feel that it would be a safer plan to table your motion. It can come up again under the head of 'unfinished business.'" In about ten minutes the old man was ready for him in the wood-shed, and he remarked: "There is a quorum present, and we will proceed to business." "I move we take a recess," replied the boy, as his youth, but it was no go. The old man had a twothirds vote on him, and the question was so well settled that the boy was able to buy two bars of soap at a grocery that afternoon without a single allusion to Cushing .- Detroit Free Press.

Miss Bernhardt Expresses an Opinion. "Then your Sunday, too; how wretched as a matter of fact, encircle myself in a shroud and bestow myself in a rosewood coffin, as you doubtless firmly believe. I am not a monster of deprayity. I haven't quatre vingt dix enfants, either more or less. I think I may inform you within the bounds of decorum, and I think if our lives were compared for any length of time mine would stand out largely on the side of good conduct with any of the so-called clergymen who advertise their preposterous ignorance, malevolence, and Phariseeism in taking my name into their godless pulpits and soiling it with their unmanly and unchristian lips. I loathe hypocrisy. I know the Beatitudes, and I strive to follow them. I strive to do, and have the assurance that I have done, good and not evil most of the days of my life. Let messieurs the clergy-property to the days of my life. Wanted to Buy It.

Mrs. Mackay, when making arrangements for her magnificent ball in Paris, was very anxious to have a calcium light upon the Arc de Triomphe, which should throw its rays upon her house. The municipal authorities, however, refused their permission, and Mrs. Mackay, nettled at such treatment, is said to have exclaimed: "Go and ask them how much they want for their old arch, and I will buy it !"

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS.

Wall Street Transactions-The Latest Quotations in Stocks and Bonds-New York and Baltimore Produce Markets-London and Paris Money Markets.

The following observations on the transactions in the financial market yesterday, together with opening, highest, lowest, and closing quotations, are furshed by the banking-house of H. D. Cooke, jr., & Co., 1429 F street, Washington, D. C.: The market has been very active to-day, and has been decidedly stronger than any market we have had for weeks past. At the close we find the list up ½ to 5 per cent. The exceptions to this rule have been Iron Mountain 1/2 off, Missouri, Kansas and Texas 1/2 off, Ma-hattan Elevated 2½ off. Conspicuous among the buoyant stock to-day has been Louisville and Nash-ville, 4 per cent. up, and confere Nashville and Chattanooga, 5 per cent, up. We understand from reliable sources that many shorts covered to-day, the bulls taking pleasure in making them pay as high as possible for stock. The two-cornered arguments on either side of the market are: On the bear side the late damaging weather and the small crop returns, and on the bull side the easiest money market we have had for some time. We merely express this as argument used in the street, without being committed.

Money easy from 2 to 2% per cent. As the courts have smashed the deferred bond business, Reading has no recourse except current earnings. As it has an immense stock of coal on had, and under present arrangements does not get its fair percentage in the coal combination, the prospect for the maintenance of the present prices of coal is not too

The St. Paul and Northwestern roads are certainly in bad luck. After suffering all the winter from snow blockades, they are getting it now from floods. The is the whistle of a well-directed rifle bullet.—Rome | bridge of the St. Paul Company at Elgin, Ill., has been swept away; the Northwestern has five miles of its track under water, and large portions washed away near Stirling, Ill.; at Fort Atkinson, Wis., its bridge is irreparably damaged. We have not heard the end yet with these rising floods.

The Iron Mountain Road earned $146,400 the second week in April; increase, $37,000. From January 1 to -A bright little boy, who had been engaged in combat with another boy, was reproved by his sunt who told him he could always to wait
